Debit Card Memo / IIAS

Up to date information on Merchants committed to an IIAS as of October 11, 2007

The merchant list is dynamic. Our vendor is aware of additional merchants preparing to implement the standard solution, but at this time they are uncomfortable committing to details or an implementation date, and are therefore not represented on the list. The merchants that are listed have stated their intention to implement, however it is important to understand that the implementation dates are not guaranteed and could change. As we receive commitments from additional merchants and approval to publish their details, we will share this information with you.

You will note that Walgreen's and Drugstore.com have been added to this list with future implementation dates. This is an update from the last communication we sent. Both of these merchants have expressed their intent to migrate to the IIAS Industry solution. Please note that Metavante will continue to work with these merchants and their existing IRS-complaint solution until they adopt the IIAS Industry Standard to ensure no disruption of card use at these locations.
